All Around the Globe.

Certificates of startling Cures of the most violent and deadly diseases are on record at DR. RADWAY'S Offices in the Cities of New York and Montreal, emanating from the highest authorities in the world. There is not a Town or City of importance (except a few in China) on the Globe but that RADWAY'S Medicines have cured the sick when all other remedial agents failed, and this is vouched for by high dignitaries in Church and State, both by letters written direct to Dr. Radway, and through the U. S. Ministers and Consols abroad.

Read the following from the Sisters of Mercy.

DORCHESTER STREET HOSPITAL OF THE SISTERS OF MERCY:

DR. RADWAY,—I certify that your Ready Relief has cured OVER ONE HUNDRED of our sick from chills, vomiting, headaches, internal pains, &c., &c.

One of our Sisters had the rheumatism in her head for a great many years—having taken a few spoonfuls of relief in water, and rubbing her head twice with the same medicine, she was perfectly cured and never felt it since. I always use it for the dyspepsia and for colds, and always with success. It is very useful for sore throat, coughs, influenza, diptheria, &c. It has a good effect in flatulence or wind cholic. I use it for foul breath and it produces a marvelous effect. In short it procures relief altogether remarkable to our invalids.

The undersigned also beg to inform the public that they sell the renowned DR. GLOBENSKY'S PECTORAL SYRUP, for all kinds of Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Hooping Cough, Consumption and Vomiting of Blood. The infallibility of this Syrup can be seen by the following extract of a letter from the Revd. J. A. Devine, M. A.

DR. GLOBENSKY, Montreal.

My dear Doctor,—It gives me sincere pleasure to be able to record my appreciation of your skillful treatment of my Bronchial affection. Deeply seated for many months before I placed myself under your care, I am sure it will gratify you to learn that you have accomplished a complete cure.

I remain, dear Doctor,
Your obliged friend,
J. A. DEVINE, M.A.,
1241 Dorchester, West.

Montreal, 11th Sept., 1865.

To Messrs. GLOBENSKY, SON & CO.:—

Gentlemen,—I think it my duty in the Public interest to say that a few years ago I was affected by a disease of the lungs, with spitting of blood and matter, from which I suffered during ten years, without permanent benefit, though treated by some of the first Physicians.

In 1863 I placed myself under Dr. GLOBENSKY'S care, and I am happy to say that I improved at once, and after a few month's treatment I was perfectly restored. I now enjoy a robust health, and am able to attend to my business as formerly.

I am,
Yours truly,

AYER'S PILLS.

R ARE you sick, feeble and complaining? Are you out of order, with your system deranged and your feelings uncomfortable? These symptoms are often the prelude to serious illness. Some fit of sickness is creeping upon you, and should be averted by a timely use of the right remedy. Take Ayer's Pills, and cleanse out the disordered humours—purify the blood, and let the fluids move on unobstructed in health again? They stimulate the functions of the body into vigorous activity, purify the system from the obstructions which make disease. A cold settles somewhere in the body, and deranges its natural functions. These, if not relieved, react upon themselves and the surrounding organs, producing general aggravation, suffering and derangement. While in this condition, take Ayer's Pills, and see how directly they restore the natural action of the system, and with it the buoyant feeling of health again. What is true and so apparent in this trivial and common complaint is also true in many of the deep seated and dangerous distempers. The same purgative effect expels them. Caused by similar obstructions and derangements of the natural function sof the body, they are rapidly and many of them surely cured by the same means. None who know the virtue of these Pills will neglect to employ them when suffering from the disorders they cure, such as Headache, Foul Stomach, Dysentery, Billious Complaints, Indigestion, Derangement of the Liver, Costiveness, Constipation, Heartburn, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Worms and Suppression, when taken in large doses.

They are Sugar Coated, so that the most sensitive can take them easily, and they are surely the best purgative medicine yet discovered.

AYER'S AGUE CURE,

For the speedy and certain cure of Intermittent Fever, or Chills and Fever, Remittent Fever, Chill Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical Headache or Billious Headache, and Billious Fevers, indeed, for the whole class of diseases originating in biliary derangement, caused by the maleria of miasmatic countries.

This remedy has rarely failed to cure the severest cases of Chills and Fever, and it has this advantage over other Ague medicines, that it subdues the complaint without injury to the patient. It contains no quinine or other deleterious substance, nor does it produce quinism or any injurious effect whatever. Shaking brothers of the army and the West, try it and you will endorse these assertions.

Prepared by DR. J. C. AYER & Co., Lowell, Mass. Sold by all the Druggists in Montreal and Dealers in Medicine everywhere.

TO GROCERS AND FAMILIES.

BURNETT'S STANDARD FLAVORING EXTRACTS

The trade will be glad to learn that these choice essences of Joseph Burnett & Co., Boston, are now manufactured in this city, for the Canadian and other foreign markets, in order to avoid the duties and high taxation at home, and will be offered at such reduced price as will commend them to first class buyers.

The materials were imported in bond in order to secure the original purity and strength for which these Extracts are noted. They are warranted perfectly free from poisonous Oils and Acids.

Mr. Alexander, the Confectioner, has long since endorsed them, and Mr. Alexander McGibbon, the well-known Grocer, who sells large quantities of them, says "the great reputation they have acquired for purity, strength and economy, should merit the confidence and patronage of all who desire to sell or use a pure article."

"The best are the cheapest" is a true motto, when health, taste and economy are considered, and we trust that house-keepers will consider this of sufficient importance to ask for "Burnett's Flavouring Extracts."

These Extracts are for sale by all the choice Grocers in Canada.

THE WONDER OF THE AGE.

MYSTIKOS OR BOGLE'S MYSTIC HAIR TINT
THE NEWEST AND GREATEST DISCOVERY—The indispensable appendage to every toilet—The companion of young and old—The "long sought for and now found."

IT IS NOT AN INSTANTANEOUS HAIR DYE, but it gradually and mystically restores hair to its original color, and gives to grey, or to any unpleasant hue of hair, any tint, varying from the lightest, through all the intermediate shades, to the deepest black, lifelike and natural, at pleasure. It can be used as easily as oil to the hair. The directions are so simple that a child may apply it. It is contained in one bottle. There is no washing of the hair before or after the application. It will not stain or discolor the scalp. It is as harmless as water. It is chiefly composed of vegetable ingredients, and no suphur, lead or deleterious minerals are contained in it. It nourishes and strengthens the hair, promotes its growth, and sustains it in prestine beauty to the latest period of life. In short, it is a wonder, a luxury, none should be without it. Try! Be convinced!

The Mystic Hair Tint is peculiarly adapted for ladies, on account of its easy application. Also and for the same reason, to gentlemen in the army or navy.

The Mystikos is also the cheapest article as one bottle will last from nine to twelve months.

 Concise and simple directions accompany each package.

PRICE, $1.50 PER PACKAGE.

MIDNIGHT DESPATCHES.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE.)

LONDON, October 6.—By the treaty of peace between Italy and Austria, the former acquires the Venetia frontier, while the latter assumes the debt of 35,000,000 florins. A complete amnesty has been accorded by Italy to all political prisoners.

LIVERPOOL, Oct. 6.—The Steamer China, from Boston on the 26th September, arrived here to-day.

The Cotton sales to-day were 10,000 bales, at a decline of ⅛d; Middling Uplands quiet at 1s 4½d. Tallow firm.

LONDON, Oct. 6.—Consols 89¼; U S. 5.20's 70¼; I C 78½; Erie 51½.

NEW YORK, Oct. 6—Increased activity was observed at the Fenian headquarters in this city, arms, &c., coming in from various parts of the country. It is supposed that James Stephens is hard at work to organize an expedition for the invasion of Ireland.

It is reported at Robert's headquarters this p.m. that one of the prominent Fenian leaders received a letter from John Mitchell by the last Steamer, that in future he would not associate himself in any way with James Stephens.

The proposed visit of the 7th regiment of this city to the Paris Exhibition next summer is attracting attention on the other side. Already a large sum, said to be $10,000, has been provided for the entertainment of the regiment in London, and the American residents of Paris, as well as those of London, will be delighted to honor the excursionists in every way.

THE CONFEDERATE DELEGATION.—Rumours begin to circulate that the delegates in the interest of Confederation are about to leave for Britain. No date is given for that event to take place, and the Gazette, through whose telegrams it is given to the public, wisely dreading another hoax, declines to say on what authority it gives the report, and does not vouch for its correctness. Possibly it fears that other wicked Confederates may be at work to cast doubt upon the sources of its official information, upon which its conductors, no doubt justly, plume themselves. Take it as it is given, and with the wise proviso as to its doubtfulness, it leaves room for some curious speculation among the British population of Lower Canada as to what is in store for them. In our, no doubt blamable ignorance, we had imagined that the minority in Lower Canada were of some small account, and that in any scheme carried out for the Confederate Union of these Provinces, a little consideration would have been shown to their wants and wishes. With the strong monarchical leanings of the Attorney General East, coupled with the declarations he has always made, that the utmost liberality would be shown to the British population, so that they might have some shadow of liberty and a few privileges left them, it was but natural to suppose that a puppet might have been got to play the part of representative of British interests in Lower Canada, the strings being of course pulled by Mr. Cartier. But in this little parti carre there is no room for a fifth. Mr. Cartier must go, as he is at the head of affairs, Mr. Langevin has never had a trip yet and he is anxious to see Windsor, so he can't be left behind. Mr. McDonald thinks the sea air might do him good, and for a week or two at least carry him beyond the reach of Mr. Brown's envenomed attacks, and as for Mr. McDougall, he has been wandering about so much lately that although, as Provincial Secretary, he ought to remain behind and attend to his correspondence, he cannot be satisfied to do so, but fancies himself all the better for being circulated, like a Provincial Note. It is true that a hint is thrown out that the consideration of the financial affairs of the Province may be taken up, but as that is a mere trifle, the accomplishment of Confederation of itself, rectifying all blunders, supplying all the deficiencies, and paying all the debts due and over due, it is doubtful if that subject will be broached. Should it be so, however, the Finance Minister, who acts under Mr. Cartier, and who is represented by his organs as a nothing—a nobody—a respectable grocer about Toronto—but a good harmless creature—is to replace Mr. McDougall, to whom probably Mr. Cartier will transmit his orders about the patronage. Such being the composition of the delegation, it is evident that the prediction we wickedly ventured to make at the time Mr. Galt so magnanimously threw up office on the defeat of the School Bill, has been completely falsified. It is in all cases by far the safest plan to predict what is to come after the event has happened, and this may possibly, like the malicious hoax played off on our neighbour, teach us carefulness and humility. If the party is made up already, Mr. Galt clearly is not one of them. Of that there is no doubt. We should have known better at the time than to have disputed the superior information which our Government contemporary can at all times command, and which must necessarily place it beyond the temptation of acquiring from its neighbours anything which it has not received itself. But while our vaticinations have been proved by events to have been wrong, the friends of the country and of Mr. Galt must rejoice to find that by a most fortunate concurrence of events, the delegates will not be without his powerful assistance. Urgent private business, the same telegram informs us, will not improbably bring Mr. Galt to London at the same time, and doubtless his services will be sought for, more especially if his successor and pupil, Mr. Howland, be of the party, vice McDougall, resigned to remain in his office. Having Mr. Galt's presence the British population of Lower Canada may feel assured that their interests will be in safe hands and well cared for, the experience they have had of Mr. Galt's influence in the Cabinet on their behalf,—notably, in the carrying out of his pledges with respect to the Education Bill and guarantees as to representation—having taught them that they may rely upon his power to fulfil his engagements. Our situation is certainly a singular one. A minority in Lower Canada, but by no means a contemptible one, if it were not for the apathy and indifference of those who ought to shape the policy of the country, and who ought now, if ever, to be alive to the necessity of having the position of affairs properly made known. Yet a large portion of the community, the wealthiest commercial men, the whole, or nearly the whole of the industrial Corporations, a large population in the Eastern Townships, not to speak of the British inhabitants of Montreal and Quebec, are to be totally ignored. Mr. Cartier and Mr. Langevin go to the Home Government as the representatives of Lower Canadian interests, the French Canadian interests being understood. Can the British Government and Parliament be blamed if, under these circumstances, they legislate exclusively for them in the scheme of Confederation to be sanctioned by the Crown? We have no wish nor desire to accuse our French Canadian fellow-subjects of seeking to tyrannize over those of other nationalities. But it is not in human nature to resist using irresponsible power if placed in the hands of a majority who have habits, modes of thought and peculiar opinions, differing from those of the minority so materially as they do in the present case.

EX-GOV. GORDON OF NEW BRUNSWICK.—Hon. A. Gordon, late Governor of New Brunswick, Mrs. Gordon, Miss Shaw Lefevre, and Capt. Hallowes, 15th Regiment, A. D. C., arrived here on Saturday morning from Quebec, and proceeded to the St. Lawrence Hall. Mr. Gordon is making a tour of Canada, previous to his departure for Trinidad, his new scene of operations.

EMPLOYES IN THE ASSEMBLY.—It appears from a return lately issued, which we have not received, however, that about 100 of the employes in the House of Assembly are French, and less than 50 English. There are sixty-seven permanent employes who receive annual salaries averaging $1,266. There are eighty-two sessional employes, two of whom are assistant translators, and thirty are extra writers at $4 per day. Twenty-one are sessional messengers at $300 per session; seven pages, the principal of whom receives $300 per session, and the other six $250. Twenty are extra messengers at $2.25 per diem, and one, a laborer, at $1.50. It is very well known that the number of extra clerks at $4 per diem, and messengers at $2.25, is not at all regulated by the service to be performed. Half of them are idling about the whole session, unable to find anything to do,—except of course draw their allowance. The magnitude of this evil has been frequently exposed, but it seems with no hope of remedy. Of one thing we may be assured, that the remedy is not likely to be found in Confederation extraordinary as that panacea may be.

LE PAYS AFFAIR.—In this case Mr. Justice Drummond on Saturday postponed further proceedings until Monday.

ENLARGEMENT.—We are glad to notice that the St. John (N.B.) Morning Telegraph has been considerably enlarged. It is well printed on excellent paper, the manufacture, we believe, of a St. John house.

NEW BOOKS.

THE PRESBYTERIAN, October. Montreal: John Lovell.

The October number of this Magazine has been laid on our table. The leading article is on the benefit of Congregational Associations obtaining the means necessary for the support and extension of the gospel. There is also an article on the Leitch Scholarship, Queen's College. Amongst the communicated articles is an interesting one on the Scottish Reformation, by the Rev. John Cook, D.D., and another on Presbyterian Union. The selections are made with the usual care, and the Church news is full and interesting.

LOWER CANADA LAW JOURNAL—OCT.—DAWSON BROS, MONTREAL.

The October number of the Law Journal opens with an article on that cause celebre, the Lamirande Extradition case, to which is appended the judgment rendered by Mr. Justice Drummond, and a narrative of the proceedings. The succeeding articles are: Law Reporting; New Trial for Felony; Magic and Witchcraft. Among the reported cases, the decision in appeal in the case of Evans and Cross is of special importance to mercantile men. There is also the case of Fahrland and Rodier, affecting the duties of architects. In the case of Droler and Moreau, the rights of tenants in respect of sub-leases, and waiver of clause prohibiting sub-letting, received full discussion. The present number also contains the habeas corpus case of Murray, in which the jailer held the prisoner under two warrants of commitment; the case of Dubord and Lanctot, as to informations against City Councillors, &c. &c. The October number also contains the usual monthly digest of English decisions. Several of these are of special interest; among them may be mentioned a case in which the law as to depriving an ancient window of some portion of its light was considered; the rights of joint patentees, the English law of copyright; liability as a holder of shares in an Iron Company, &c., &c.

REFORMATORY AT ST. VINCENT DE PAUL.—A few days since two of the young prisoners at the Reformatory succeeded in making their escape. The Minerve is informed that after an absence of only two days, they returned to their quarters of their own accord, which speaks well for the management and discipline of the institution.

Paris Correspondence of the "Montreal Herald."

PARIS, Sept. 18, 1866.

We have had an earthquake! not figurative, not literal. An earthquake that gave us, about 5 a.m. on the 14th inst., two very distinct shocks of four or five oscillations each, wakening people out of their morning slumbers, opening doors, shaking mirrors, knocking articles of crockery together, and frightening the population out of its wits. The same commotion was felt, at the same time, at Tours, Orleans, Angers, Nantes, Rouen, Le Mans, Vendome and many other points of the north west corner of France; the shocks appear to have been from east to west, the weather being cloudy and the barometer falling six millimeters, while the thermometer remained stationary. At Angonleme the waters of the Charente fell five centimeters at the moment of the shock, and did not regain their level till an hour later. Various accidents are reported. Tiles fell off and walls were cracked and even overthrown. Birds and small animals were seen to exhibit signs of alarm. When one thinks of what earthquakes may do in the way of mischief, how Lisbon was swallowed up bodily, not a century ago, and how the South American town of Mendoza, had 10,000 of its citizens entombed alive in the course of a few seconds, in 1858, one is conscious of an uncomfortable sensation at perceiving by even so slight a visitation as that to which we have just been subjected that the "metropolis of Europe" is not secure against the action of the perturbing forces that hold sway in the depths of our planet of whose "intestines," small as our little globe, we know so very little. In Italy, when slight shocks of the kind are felt, the priests carry pictures of saints, or statues of the Virgin, through the streets; the people kneel as the procession goes by, and the population feels that the danger has been averted. There are districts in this country in which much virtue is still attributed to such processions; but it is doubtful whether even the most arriere of Brenton villages would be capable of trusting, in cases of cholera, to the recipe just published by the Chiesa Cattalica (a clerical paper published at Naples), and which runs as follows: "Apply to the abdomen a picture of St. Gioacchimo, the glorious father of the Holy Virgin. This remedy is unfailing. Cholera rarely attacks a person thus protected; if it does, it is immediately cured. "God sends the cholera to punish us for our sins, but San Gioacchimo drives it away." The ignorant plebe of lovely Naples is, however, only on a level with its congenera of the rest of the rich province of that name. At Lorre Annunziata, a few miles from the capital, priests and people have been getting up a procession of statues of Saints, with a view of driving away the epidemic; and the authorities of the region have had no little trouble in preventing other localities from following this edifying example. What with cholera, earthquakes, and persistent bad weather, we shall have anything but pleasant remembrances of this years' summer. No such weather has been known at this season, for a century past, and those who have faith in almanacs are hastening back to Paris, believing that, if we are to be favoured, as predicted by the traditional "Mathew Laensberg" and the modern (continuator of) M. Mathew de la Drome, with an incessant downfall of "rain mixed with snow," from September of this year, to January of the next, such an infliction can be more easily endured amidst the amusements of Paris than among the manifold drearinesses of bad weather at the sea side or in the country. Paris is, therefore, less "deserted" just now than is usually the case at this season. The theatres are all in full blast, the clubs are filling, and M. Becdelievre has recommenced his popular concerts in the Champs Elysees, where the finest works of the standard composers are admirably performed by the best talent of Paris, the entrance fee being only one franc.

It is rumoured that we are soon to be favoured with the presence of the famous Donato, the one-legged dancer who has been performing with "immense applause" at the principal Italian theatres, and who is now creating a furore among the enlightened people of Lyons. It appears, however, that the dancer in question, whom all Lyons maintains to be "the only, sole, and unique Donato, all the others, without exception, being nothing but counterfeits," really possesses a couple of legs, equally valid, though he uses only one for the execution of his Terpsichorean feats. The Prodigy in question relates, as the explanation of his extraordinary talent, that while residing in Spain, (where he exercised the profession of dancing-master, and where he often amused himself with dancing on one leg, though without any idea of showing himself in public,) he chanced, one day, to see a poor beggar, who had but a single leg, cutting various capers, to the immense delight of a crowd of applauding spectators, accompanying himself with the clicking of castagnettes.

Pitying the poor wretch, the dancing master invited the beggar to go home with him, and offered to teach him the rules of the art, so that he might turn his agility to better account. The latter accepted the offer; and subsequently having profited by the proffered lessons, danced his way through Spain and the south of France, amassing a handsome fortune; which, however, he did not live to enjoy as he died only a few years afterwards.

The success of his quondam pupil having come to the ears of Donato, he resolved to enter upon the career which had proved so profitable to the former; but as he unfortunately possessed two legs, and could not resolve to have either of them amputated, he was obliged in order to enter upon the profession of "monopodal dancer, to have the superfluous leg strapped up along his back."

A "Professor" of another kind is exhibiting at Berlin, a troop of "Trained Fleas," that draw miniature carriages, fire off cannon, and perform various other exploits of a similar character. When exhibiting his tiny performers before the King, the "Professor" was suddenly seen to change countenance, and to exhibit signs of great consternation. "What is the matter, Herr Professor?" enquired His Majesty, on seeing that the performance had come to a stand-still. "Sire," replied the "Professor," I perceive that one of my very best performers, the Great Napoleon, has got loose, and disappeared. I can do nothing without the co-operation of my Napoleon. "Let search be made at once for the Great Napoleon, replied the King, good-humouredly. "Ladies and Gentlemen," continued His Majesty, addressing the courties present, "let the Herr Professor have your best help in recapturing the Great Napoleon. In what direction, Herr Professor, do you imagine the runaway to have gone?"

"If I may venture, Sire, to reply frankly to your Majesty's question," returned that personnage, "I suspect the great Napoleon to have secreted himself about the person of Her Serene Highness," the Princess F——. The "Highness" thus named, feeling anything but "Serene" at the thought of affording quarters to such an intruder, made a hasty retreat to her own apartments, whence, after a brief retirement with her cameriste, she smilingly returned to the Royal presence, bringing some object, held delicately between her thumb and finger, which she cautiously made over to the Professor.

"Alas! Sire," dolefully exclaimed the latter, after a moments glance at what he thought was his discovered treasure," this is a wild flea and not the Great Napoleon!" And the exhibition, add the gossips was thus brought to an ignominous conclusion.

The constant rain (which does not extend to Russia or to Spain, where the weather is splendid. Biarritz, just above the Spanish frontier, sharing the sunshine of its neighbour), has not prevented the holders of pernus de chasse from availing themselves of the privilege of destruction thus conferred. The various railway stations are crowded with excursionists arrayed in the outre costumes which Frenchmen make it a point to don whenever they go hunting or shooting; and the public has seen, with some little excitement, several ladies accompanying the Nimrods of the capital, attired in short dresses, high boots, round hats, with a gun resting on one shoulder and a pouch slung from the other. What success these lady sportsmen may have met with, has not yet been revealed to an admiring public.

The huge palace destined to contain the wonderful gathering of next year is being rapidly brought into existence. Every week or two we are informed of some new "feature," struck out by the Emperor or those about him, and destined to add to the glory of the affair. A vast and beautiful park is to surround the palace; restaurants, cafes, reading-rooms, baths, horticultural and zoological exhibitions, workshops in full activity, specimens of outlandish tribes, a guillotine (invented by a Prussian, under the inspiration probably, of the needle-gun) that will chop off six heads per second, new quays, bridges, and steamboats to facilitate coming and going, and a circular railway round the town for the same purpose, are among the projects to be executed between this and next May. It is calculated that the glass employed in this great undertaking will cover 20 square acres; and that a youth remaining in the palace long enough to study thoroughly all its contents, would only quit the Tuileries a gray-haired man.

COURT OF QUEEN'S BENCH.

SEPTEMBER TERM.

Present: His Honour Mr. JUSTICE DRUMMOND.

Saturday, Oct. 6, 1866.

F. X. Senecal was placed at the bar and was sentenced to an imprisonment of two months. His Honour said that the crime of which the prisoner had been accused was of a very grave and serious nature and might have been murder. Considering the great provocation, however, received by the prisoner, the violent conduct of Brais to the prisoner and others, the generally peaceable conduct of the prisoner and state of fear in which he was when the assault was committed, together with the consideration of the time during which he had already been in gaol, induced the Court in prisoners' case who had been found guilty of a common assault to sentence him to a further term of imprisonment for two months.

His Honour then referred to a misstatement in one of the city papers as to the number of alien jurors ordered to be summoned on the case of Vanhoff, his attention having been called to that report by members of the bar of Quebec. It was stated that the number summoned was twenty-four and that they were all ordered to be Germans. His Honour then recapitulated his judgment, in similar terms to those which will be found in the Herald of

It was most important that the practice should be alike throughout the Province, but the question of the number of jurors to be summed in these cases lay with the judge for decision.

LARCENY.

Joseph Mercier was placed at the bar on a charge of robbing the Grand Trunk Railway Company on the 29th Sept. last.

Mr. Chapeleau appeared for the defence.

James Lyman Grey said that on the morning of the 30th ult., about three in the morning, on the Grand Trunk Railway, he saw a grain truck out of its place and removed to the cattle siding. He went to the office to Mr. Elliot, and told him, and then returned. He found the car with one door fast, but the ribbon broken; the other door was open sufficiently to allow of witness putting in his hand. He found it was loaded with wheat. He then returned to Mr. Elliot, and they both searched, and he found the four men, who were taken prisoners, asleep in the van at the end of the truck. One of them had a bag under his head. Witness then concealed himself in a shed a short distance off, in full view of the cars. About daybreak he saw the truck door opened, and one of the prisoners throw something white in. He then heard a shuffling, as if of shovelling grain. Prisoner at the bar then got out and lifted a bag out, and they passed where witness was concealed, who lost sight of them. He then changed his position, and he was able to look down on them at a distance of about 10 feet. He was on the roof of a shanty where tools are kept. Witness looked straight down on them. He heard one of them say, "here they come," meaning as witness believes, the engine. As the engine was passing taking advantage witness came down and saw the prisoners moving the bag. They put it on the engine. Seeing this witness called to them they had taken it far enough. Mercier had run off. Some of them called out "say nothing about it." Mercier had left his bag in the shanty. Brocher emptied his into the car. The next witness saw of Mercier he was in the yard about two acres away. It was immediately after, when witness went down with Brocher. He then gave witness in charge of the police at the office. The prisoner Mercier is headshunter of the gang.

John S. Clark. About half past five witness was awakened and told that four men had been caught stealing wheat. He gave orders to get the police and have the men taken to the Chaboillez Square Station. He went there and preferred a charge against the four men. They were all employed in the Grand Trunk. Prisoner is a shunter, as such he had charge of an engine to shunt the trucks and cars, make up trains &c.

John Elliot, Station Master at Point St. Charles, corroborated the evidence of first witness, and said the carriages were all closed when they arrived from the West.

As this stage of the proceedings Mr. Chapleau, counsel for the prisoner, declared that his client wished to withdraw his plea of not guilty and to plead guilty.

His Honor addressed the jury, directing them to bring in a verdict accordingly. They then found the prisoner guilty.

Alexis Brochor was put to the bar, and pleaded guilty to one of the indictments perferred against him, for robbing the Grand Trunk, in connection with the Mercier case.

Fabien Lacloche was put upon his trial, charged with stealing four bushels of wheat from the Grand Trunk Company on the night of the 29th of September last. The prisoner was an engine-driver in the service of the Grand Trunk, and was also one of the four employes of the company, charged with stealing wheat from one of the cars at the above date.

After two witnesses had been examined, the Crown abandoned the case, and the prisoner was discharged. The Crown Prosecutor then entered a nolle prosequi in the case of Hubert Desforges, who had likewise been indicted for being concerned in the Grand Trunk larcenies now in question.

ASSAULT WITH INTENT TO COMMIT A RAPE.

Joseph Ethier was placed at the bar charged with having committed an assault on one Amanda Guibord, a little girl of 10 years of age, with intent to commit a rape.

The prisoner was an elderly man about 60 years of age, the details being perfectly unfit for publication.

The Court proceeded to sum up the evidence in a careful and able manner, pointing out that there were grave doubts in the case, the medical evidence failing to prove that the crime had been perpetrated, and charging on the whole in favour of the prisoner.

The Jury retired, and after remaining out of Court for a few minutes returned with a verdict of not guilty.

The prisoner was then discharged, and the Court adjourned until 10 o'clock on Monday morning.

CORRESPONDENCE.

To the Editor of the MONTREAL HERALD.

MR. EDITOR,—The late Sir Robert Peel once declared free trade to be "the buying in the cheapest and the selling in the dearest market." But our Canadian manufacturers must be "fellows of infinite jest and most excellent fancy," since they attempt to prove that the buying in the dearest market is a benefit to the community. I fancy these gentlemen will have up hill work to prove to the workingman that it is a benefit for him to pay four dollars for a pair of boots that he might buy for three dollars, if he was not robbed of the extra dollar by legislative enactment, under the name of "Incidental Protection," or "Protection to Native Industry." I wonder how often it has been proved that protection is only another name for plunder.

Let us reproduce the third resolution of these disinterested gentlemen (who think of the good of their country rather than their own pockets):—

"That the theory of the low tariff making cheap goods to the consumer is fallacious, and is a "promise to the ear that is broken to the hope;" that, on the contrary, its effects would be to destroy our own manufactures, which now act as a check upon the exactions of the importer, and preserves the consumer against the burdensome profit of a foreign monopoly."

The meeting of manufacturers at which this solemn declaration of political economy was enunciated was held within the past week at Toronto, years after Adam Smith and Ricardo, Sir Robert Peel and Richard Cobden had proved such principles to be simply humbug; and after the success of the system of free trade had been evidenced in England by such "budgets" as no man before Mr. Gladstone had ever the opportunity of introducing.

Mr. Galt, in his Budget speech of 1862, said the "only effect of protective duties had been to enhance the price to the consumer for a worse article, and at the same time the revenue from those sources had decreased."

Really, it is disgusting to have to repeat such obvious truths as argument over and over again, but Error and Sophistry die hard.

I wonder whether these Solons knew that their elegant garbling in the before named resolution, with reference to "broken promises, etc.," is from Macbeth. What a pity it is they did not favour the world with the two lines immediately preceding:—

"Then be these juggling fiends no more believed,
That palter with us in a double sense."

I wish these worthies joy of their argument, and am inclined to regard the whole affair as a farce. I am reminded of Charles Dickens's "Great Expectations" and am induced to exclaim with Joe Gargery,

"What larks!!!"

I am Mr. Editor,
Yours respectfully,
A VOICE FROM THE CROWD.

P. S.—This letter might be extended to an indefinite length as the sopohistry of these protectionists has been answered over and over again; the impudence of the 4th resolution is remarkably cool. I remember when Sir Robt. Peel's alterations in the British Tariff were being discussed in 1841, that Sir Ed. Knatchbull objected to the reduction of duty on "apples, because Kent ("my county") is an apple growing country, whilst the duke of Richmond with a frankness truly refreshing admitted that he did not care about the duty on glass, because said he "we do not grow glass, timber we do." So truly disinterested are all advocates of protection.

PAVING THE STREETS.

To the Editor of the MONTREAL HERALD.

SIR,—A paragraph which appeared in the Herald a few days ago, gave me great concern, as being an evidence that the Road Committee are not yet fully alive to the importance of securing a permanent roadway in the streets of the city. They might take a lesson from past failures. The Nicholson pavement now proposed to be laid down may do very well for a short time, but the best and cheapest pavement is that which will last the longest and do the most service. I have travelled a good deal and seen a good many pavements contrived to save money, and they all proved the costliest. The best piece of paving I have seen in North America is that in St. Sulpice Street, and if instead of fiddling about, and laying their heads together to get wooden blocks for the streets, our authorities would think of what is best to be done for the future as well as for the present year, they would save money and earn the blessing of every

PROPRIETOR.

Montreal, 4th Oct, 1866.

DANGER IN HANDLING FIRE-ARMS.—A sad accident is recorded in the Minerve, which happened on Thursday, and has brought mourning into a French family of this city. A son of Mr. J. B. Senecal, Catherine Street, started with a friend on a sporting expedition. When landing from a canoe on one of the Verennes islands, the young man took his gun by the muzzle, and the trigger meeting with some obstacle, the piece was discharged into his breast. He breathed his last after ten minutes. He was a tall, handsome, and very promising young man, and had just completed his course of studies.

Important Alterations in the Law of Lower Canada made by the promulgation of the Code Civil.

CONTRACT OF SALE.

Formerly if land sold at a price per foot was found to contain less than the quantity bargained for the seller was bound to return the price paid in excess; and if the superficial contents turned out to be larger than that bargained for the buyer had to make up the deficiency in price. But if a piece of land were sold as containing a certain fixed quantity, should it turn out that it contained less than that quantity the seller had to account, but he had no recourse if the contents were greater than had been stipulated. The code now gives the seller the right to recover a larger price if the land sold contain more superficial feet than was supposed. Should there be a deficit so considerable as to show that the land bought will not answer the evident intention of the buyers the bargain may be annulled. These rules of course do not apply when the land is sold with the more or less clause. In case of servitudes not apparent and not declared in the deed of sale, if they are so important as to give rise either to a demand for the resiliation of the contracts or for a money indemnity, the necessary action at law may be commenced from the moment the servitude is discovered, instead of the purchaser being bound to wait till his possession is actually troubled. As to the annulling of a sale of real property for want of payment of the price, which was formerly a right of vendors of real property, the right is abolished except there is a separation in the deed to that effect, which must be registered to have any operation against third parties. The right must in any case be exercised within ten years from the time of sale; but it is absolute when stipulated and does not require as heretofore a preliminary condemnation of the debtor or to pay the amount in order to make it in force. The judgment must be given at once for the annulling of the sale; but the debtor may pay at any time before the judgment is rendered. In sales of moveable property the purchaser must carry the goods away from the place, and at the time agreed upon; and if the price has not been paid before that time and the goods have not been carried away the sale is null in favour of the vendor. If there has been no agreement as to time and place the sale becomes null in favour of the vendor after notice, without prejudice to the sellers claim for damages. Formerly the sale could only be annulled under these circumstances by an action. Sales of credit or rights of action are now rendered perfect by the execution of the deed, without the tradition which was formerly required by the signification of the sale to the debtor. Following out the same principle exchanges like sales take place by consent of the parties, without any tradition being required for its completion.

LEASES.

The 1608 article of the code introduces a new rule, by declaring that leases of farm property will hereafter oblige the tenant to pay the rent stipulated, instead of the rent being subjected to deductions in bad years, compensated by excessive production in good years if such there be during the lease. The latter was the disposition of the old law. The code also declares that the occupation of farm property by the tolerance of the proprietor, without a written lease, terminates at the first of October instead of the first of May, as formerly. Leases of houses can not be terminated as under the old French law, by notice that the proprietor requires them for the purpose of his own residence. Such a condition, to be valid, must be stipulated in the lease, and in that case, without an express agreement to the contrary, the proprietor must give three months notice. In the same spirit the code abolishes the old rule that a sale breaks a lease. Such a right must be stipulated in the lease if the proprietor wishes to exercise it. When the right is stipulated, however, the tenant will have no claim for damages, should he be turned out, by a sale, unless it is expressed in the lease that he shall be entitled to damages on losing possession.

ARCHITECTS AND CONTRACTORS.

The code makes an addition to the old law in respect to architects and contractors who have undertaken, for fixed sums, to construct buildings according to plans and specifications. They will not be permitted hereafter to charge any increased amount under pretence of change of plans, or of increased labour and materials, unless they are authorized to make such changes in writing by the proprietor, with a stipulated price.

PLEDGES.

Art. 1971 permits a creditor to stipulate that in default of payment of a loan he shall be at liberty to keep the things pledged as security. Formerly such an agreement was null—the law requiring that the thing pledged must be brought to sale. Under the code, however, it will be necessary that there should be an express agreement to authorize such sale.

PHYSICIANS.

In case of death from any chronic disease, the privilege in favour of the credit of the doctor or nurse who attended the deceased is hereafter limited to the charges for the last six months of life. Formerly there was no limit to the privilege in favour of the creditors. Domestics and persons engaged on salaries will have a preference claim over other creditors for their wages accruing for one year before the death or failure of their employer. Formerly the privilege ran for two years. The privilege in favour of clerks, apprentices or journeymen is by the code restricted to wages for three months instead of two years.

TAXATION FOR CHURCHES AND CEMETERIES.

The privilege for taxation for the construction of Churches, &c., in case the real property charged with such taxes has been possessed by a person who does not drofess the Catholic religion before the taxation was imposed, shall take rank only after the bailleur de fonds and other privileges and hypotheques formed before such acquisition.

REGISTRATION.

There are a number of new dispositions in the code relative to registration, which, without going into details, we may say are intended to extend and enforce the necessity of registration, so as to make it apply to every possible case of the transfer of real state, no matter for what cause. No such transaction can be valid against third parties without registration.

PRESCRIPTION.

Among other dispositions tending to simplify this branch of the law, the Code has abridged some of the terms of prescription. Thns by art. 2206 third parties who acquire property in good faith by a title can precribe after ten years against presents or obsents. Real property acquired in good faith by a title is released from all charges by ten years possession in virtue of the title. Formerly twenty years were required against absent parties. Arrears of tythes can only be claimed for one year. This is not described by the codifiers as a new disposition, though the law has hitherto been disputed. Art. 2250 establishes a prescription for all arrears of rentes for life, or accruing as interest on terms, or from leased property, and in general for arrears of revenue natural or civil. This prescription is now uniformly of five years. Formerly there was a distinction between various kinds of rents, and some were only prescribed after thirty years. Actions of the classes hereinafter named are to be prescribed by five years, viz: Actions by notaries for professional services; and actions against notaries, lawyers and others for papers deposited with them to count from the deposit of such papers when they have not been used. Actions of a commercial nature or on bills of exchange, &c; actions for moveables, even when not between traders; actions arising out of contracts to perform work, and for labour manual, professional or intellectual; and for materials which may have been furnished with exception hereafter to be mentioned. These prescriptions were formerly of either six or thirty years. The actions which follow are prescriptible after a term of two years, viz: 1st, For seduction and cost of child birth. 2nd. For damages resulting from torts and quasi torts (delits et quasi delits), except where other dispositions are specially applicable. 3rd. For salaries for persons employed at wages but not regarded as domestics, and who are engaged for not less than a year. 4th. For school masters and teachers including board and lodging furnished them. In these cases the prescription formerly varied—one year—six years or thirty years. The following actions are prescriptible at the end of one year, viz: 1st. For bodily injury except in cases otherwise specially provided for. 2nd. For wages to household servants; farm labourers; merchants clerks and other persons engaged for less than a year. These prescriptions now completely extinguish the right of action, and even make it impossible to bring an action to recover a debt after the expiration of the term of prescription against it; so that the debtor will not be bound to plead to such an action. This disposition of the Code settles many questions formerly doubtful. Three years will enable a possessor of moveable property, in good faith, to prosecute against the owner. even though he has lost the property by theft, and the three years run from the time such owner has lost possession of it, though the actual possessor has not had it so long. Formerly the actual possessor of an immoveable must have had it himself for three years, in order to prescribe against the owner; and the article by which this prescription is established decrees that in commercial matters prescription is not necessary to prevent revendication of a thing which has been purchased in good faith.

INSURANCE.

In case of the acceptance by insurers of an abandoned vessel, the Code directs that the freight accruing after the accident shall belong to the insurer; and that before the accident to the proprietor of the ship, or the insurer of the freight to whom it has been abandoned.

CITY ITEMS.

ESCAPED FROM JAIL.—On Saturday morning a prisoner escaped from the Montreal Jail.

RIFLE MATCH.—A rifle match took place on Friday at Point St. Charles, between twelve sergeants of the 23rd R. W. F. and twelve of the 25th Regt., K.O.B. Twenty rounds were fired at 200, 400, and 600 yards. The sergeants of the 25th won by 53 points.

PRIZE CATTLE.—In the cargo of the S S "Baltimore," from Portland for Halifax, were three carloads of prize cattle.

POLICE COURT.—Joseph Bacon for stealing money from Joseph Desjardins, was sent to gaol for two months. A gang of male and female vagrants for being drunk and fighting were sent to gaol for one month.

RECORDER'S COURT.—Sarah Thornton, drunk in Bonsecours market, was fined $2 or two months. A number of prostitutes were fined for loitering with the alternative of two months imprisonment. There were 31 cases in all.

The number of persons tried during the week was 52.

THE POPE—IMPORTANT STATEMENT.

(Rome Cor. (Sept. 15th) Pall Mall Gazette.)

According to the present temper of the Vatican, the departure of the Holy Father is more probable than his continuance at Rome in the event of the French withdrawing in December. It is persistently said that he will go either to Malta or to England. There is a talk of the approaching arrival of Mr. Gladstone, and it is thought that this statesman's visit to Rome is not without relation to the Pope's departure. The British Government is credited with encouraging the Holy Father in resistance to the counsels of France, and with promising him assistance—assertions which, I need not say, are wholly devoid of foundation. Indeed, I have reason to believe that Mr. Odo Russell has distinctly told Cardinal Antonelli that England will not meddle in the Roman question. While preparing for the eventuality of flight, the Pope is also contemplating the possibility of his being detained a captive at Rome, and as a precaution, has drawn a secret bull, delegating his full powers to a cardinal, whom certain reason prevent my naming at present. Directly the Holy Father is taken captive, or deprived of his "apostolic" liberty, the said cardinal will repair to Vienna or London, and there publish the bull, which is now in his possession. In this document Pius IX. names him as his alter ego ed tempus, vicar of the Universal Church—that is, Pope ed interim. All Catholic bishops, all priests, and all the faithful are, during the captivity of the Sovereign Pontiff, to address themselves to this organ of the Pope reduced to silence, and who will be the interpreter of Peter in bonds, Petrus in vinculis. The revolutionists would thus hold the Pope in their own hands rather as an old man, weak and dumb, than as a hostage; the Papacy would save its independence, and be provisionally represented by the Cardinal Vicar Apostolic oracle of the Church and the Catholic world until the revocation of his power. Such is the provision made against the determination of the Roman Secret Committee to oppose the departure of the Pope by every means in his power. This Committee, which is very powerful and possesses great resources, does not confine its action to Rome, but has just sent off a crowd of Romans to Venice, to secure, by their participation in the universal vote, the union of Venetia with the kingdom of Italy. The other day 1,500 persons started at once for Venice by the Ancona Railway. The Liberal party are in great fear that Venetia will not pronounce in favor of autonomy.

THE POOR FREED PEOPLE OF THE UNITED STATES.

The Tribune of Monday, October 1st says:—Gov. Patton of Alabama has requested, and obtained, the reissue of rations by the Freedmen's Bureau, representing that seventy to eighty thousand persons in that State, chiefly widows and orphans, are suffering for the want of food. Gov. Patton was one of those who recommended the stoppage of rations. His present request was sustained by Gen. Howard, who notes the important fact that in the latest report there were more than two whites credited with rations to one coloured person. We suppose this important fact will make no change in the abuse lavished upon the Freedmen's Bureau, as an almshouse for negroes.

Frightful accounts of destitution come from Alexandria. "The people are crazy for work, and know how to do it, too;" but they can get nothing to work on. Their flourishing Industrial School is nearly at a stand still for lack of material.

What is to be done? There are people hungry for intelligence, willing to give all they can scrape together to obtain it; holding out their hands to one of their well known associations, begging its officers to eke out their small means with noble bounty. The Freedmen's and Union Commission would be only too thankful to do it; it is what they came into existence for; they have every facility for doing it, but money. Last year a single branch of the Commission spent between $200,000 and $300,000 in the faithful discharge of its self-imposed labour; it would gladly disburse twice as much this year; but at the opening of the season, when its work should be getting bravely under way, it stands helpless, has not a dollar in its treasury. It is not they, but the country that makes appeal for aid in the great cause of the hour. We trust the appeal will be listened to and answered in a way to make everything sure for the coming Winter at least. If any have more confidence in us than in the Association let them send contributions to this office. But they will do better to send to J. B. Collins, No. 40 Wall street, or to the Rev. Mr. Lyman Abbot, or Francis G. Shaw, No. 76 John Street. Let them obtain the reports, also, of the Commission, and make themselves acquainted with the magnificent work already done in years past. A comprehension of that work, and of the broad unsectarian spirit in which it has been executed, will make them willing to increase their gifts and happy in cooperating with men who are working at the foundations of a new social order in the South.

IRON-CLAD FORTS AND EARTHWORKS.

The experiments which Gen. Barnard has conducted at Fortress Monroe are additional evidence of the greater defensive value of earthworks as compared with stone fortifications. A stone target, eight feet thick, ironclad, and in some places supported by a heavy granite abutment, was completely ruined by eleven shots from large Rodman guns of fifteen-inch smooth-bore and twelve-inch rifled. Blocks of granite, weighing hundreds of pounds, were thrown fifty yards from their places, and had the target been a casemate of a fort, its defenders would have found the flying fragments of stone and iron more dangerous than cannon balls. The effect of the projectiles is described as astounding.
