FIRE DEPARTMENT.

During the past 16 years the Fire business of this Branch of the Company has steadily increased, until it now stands in the front rank of insurance Companies. The Company is represented in all the cities, towns and villages throughout the land, by active business men, whose efforts have secured for it a large share of first-class custom in their several localities. In the administration of this business and in the settlement of claims, the Directors have endeavoured to act with liberality and promptitude, and in all doubtful questions (saving fraudulent ones) to give the benefit of the doubt to the assured, so that no delay might occur in arriving at the amount of a loss or in settling it when ascertained.

LIFE DEPARTMENT.

The Directors would call attention to the moderate rates at which they are prepared to grant Life Policies and Annuities, and respectfully solicit a comparison of their terms with other first-class English Companies.
Persons assuring under Table No. 2, with Guaranteed Bonus, (a form of assurance peculiar to this Company), should they reach a certain specified age, may leave to their heirs, in addition to the original sum assured, all Premiums paid during their lifetime, (yielding a certain amount of interest), the whole not exceeding an amount double the sum originally assured.
No extra charge for military service in defence of the Country.
All Claims are payable thirty days after admission of same.
The Company's Life Tables and Prospectus, will be gladly furnished by the Company's Agents throughout Canada, and also by

(Reported Specially for the Montreal Herald.)

THE FENIAN TRIALS AT TORONTO.

TORONTO, Nov. 8.

The Fenian trials were resumed to-day. Justice John Wilson presiding.

Patrick O'Neil, an old man of 80, was first placed in the dock.

Mr. McKenzie moved before the prisoner pleaded that the indictment be squashed on the ground of a misjoinder of the Court, and that the offence was committed in the county of Welland and therefore cannot be tried in the county of York.

Mr. Harrison took an opposite view and a long argument followed, which resulted in Mr. McKenzie asking his Lordship to allow him till to-morrow to consider what course it would be expedient for him to adopt, whether he should enter a demurrer or allow the prisoner to plead over.

Mr. J. H. Cameron said that in another case it was held that unless a demurrer was successfull, a sentence would have to be carried out, and therefore advised caution. After a few remarks from Judge Wilson, the prisoner was removed.

Patrick McGrath was then placed in the dock.

Mr. McNabb opened the case for the Crown.

Dennis Sullivan, a soldier in the Royal Canadian Rifles, was the first witness called.—His evidence went to show that the prisoner was with the Fenians at Fort Erie, and was detailed by the Fenian officers to stand guard over him, when he was taken prisoner by the Fenians.

John Metcalfe, employed in the gaol where the Fenians are confined, testified that the prisoner told him that he was a British subject, a native of Galway, and a Roman Catholic, and that he resided at Brooklyn, New York.

At this stage of the proceedings, Mr. Harrison said that the prisoner would have to be acquitted on this indictment, but asked to have him detained in custody, as there was something more against him.

His Lordship explained to the Jury that the evidence showed the prisoner to be a British subject, and therefore that he could not be tried under the present indictment. He accordingly directed the Jury to return a verdict of acquittal.

The prisoner was detained to answer another count.

OTTAWA, Nov. 8.

A special train leaves with the Hon. Messrs. McDonald and Cartier at 10 o'clock to-night.

The Militia and general business were discussed in Council to-day.

Forty old Dutch muskets, seized at Hawkesbury, were sent from Ottawa, by Mr. Pratt, on speculation. Pratt is a loyal citizen, and so is Sinclair, the man to whom the arms were sold.

RE ELECTIONS IN THE NITED STATES.—The returns of the voting in the United States, published in the papers received yesterday, do not materially change the conclusions arising from the figures which had previously reached us by telegraph. The North-west has gone, as we have already said, more Republican than ever, and even Missouri seems to have felt the influence of the wave of opinion, as even in that ex-slave state, which a few years ago supplied the border ruffians who sought to impose slavery on Kansas by violence, it is supposed that the Republicans have been successful. In Massachusetts again the Republicans have carried all before them, and by way of keeping the advanced post in the march of justice and civilization it has, first of any State, chosen two coloured men to its local Legislature. They are said to be men of high character and abilities, and that is no doubt the case, for though it is possible that their colour was the real cause of the selection, on the part of those who desired by this choice to declare their superiority to prejudice, it is also likely that the electors who had this object in view would wish their choice to be justified by the conduct of their protegés. Delaware and Maryland, as was to be expected, have both given their adhesion to the Johnson or Democratic party which contains whatever residuum of the pro-slavery feeling is possible in a society where slavery has been abolished by law. But the main point of interest was of course New York, and when it is remembered that the city alone, without reckoning Brooklyn or the County, gave Hoffman a majority of 46,000, the fact that this majority, more than double the Democratic majority last year, could be overborne by the rural part of the State, is a wonderful proof of the strong conviction which prevails among that part of the people which is removed from the corrupt influences of various kinds which prevail in the city of New York. Of course every one knew that that city would go with the Democrats, and if it were possible to find any party which pandered more grossly to vile prejudices and corrupt practices, New York would be quite as certain to be found upon that side. The augumentation of the majority for Hoffman over Seymour was, however, doubtless chiefly due to two circumstances. First the Executive patronage was this year given openly to the Democratic candidate, whereas it was last year either ostensibly, if not really, on the other side. Second Mr. Hoffman being Mayor of the city was able to employ all the powerful influence of the city government in his own favour. Among the notabilia of this election is the choice of the eminent pugilist Mr. Morrissey, for one of the New York Districts, as a representative to Congress. This may seem an odd selection, especially as the gentleman having now retired from the ring is now the leading gambling house keeper of the country. But he has the recommendation of being an excellent representative of the constituency which has sent him to Washington. We may also note that the older men of the present generation has seen a pugilist, Mr. Gulley, sitting in the British House of Commons, having by a coincidence with Mr. Morrissey's case, which is perhaps not very remarkable, been chosen to represent the slave holding interest during the great contest for the abolition of slavery in the British Colonies.

THE PROTESTANTS AND THE SCHOOL LAW.—When one of our Ministerial contemporaries gave out a few days ago that Mr. Galt had accepted the place of a delegate to England, in order to protect the educational interests of his "countrymen and co-religionists," we had no hesitation in saying that the statement involved another fraud. It is plain that Mr. Galt could do nothing in the direction indicated in England, except by inducing the Imperial Government and Parliament to insert in the Quebec constitution some clause which is not now there; and this, although our own Parliament had not been allowed to make any amendment in that document, and although Mr. Cartier had solemnly asserted that he would permit no amendment to be made in England. One of two things therefore. Either the assurance given to the Protestants of Lower Canada, as an excuse for the acceptance by Mr. Galt of a quasi seat in the Cabinet which he had left, professedly because it had already broken the word he had pledged in its behalf, was a false assurance; or else Mr. Cartier was about to do in England that which he had solemnly declared he would not do. There was no escape from this dilemma. We never doubted that the assurances made in the name of Mr. Galt on this head would turn out as fraudulent as those which he had previously given, for we at all events remember the line in which an eminent deceiver was warned that and Mr. Galt's betrayals of his friends are very far indeed from being at the first experiment. Those who are interested in this matter need hardly wait for the result in order to make up their minds. Here is an extract which we translate from the Minerve, the organ of Mr. Cartier, in which all the statements made officially on behalf of Mr. Galt are distinctly repudiated in advance. After stating that Mr. Cartier has again pledged himself to do justice to everybody—though he has broken the promise given by Mr. Galt in his name to do this justice in a given and definite manner—the Minerve continues thus, with an egotism which makes us suppose that the Attorney General does not confine his utterances to verbal orations, but sometimes deigns to honour the columns of our contemporary by his essays:—

"Nothing could be more explicit than "the solemn engagements taken by Mr. "Cartier at the last banquet" (except the written engagement made in his name by Mr. Galt and subsequently broken) "Mr. "Cartier did-not say that he trusted to Mr. "McGee or to any other of his colleagues "to assure to the Catholics the guarantees "to which they are entitled. He engaged "himself to have equal justice accorded to "all creeds."

Our contemporary then proceeds:—

"We can state that our delegates set out "for England thoroughly determined to "accept no humiliating condition. Some "journals have pretended that our Gov-"ernment had resolved to cause the Impe-"rial Parliament to legislate on our system "of instruction. A newspaper which is "usually well informed—the Richmond "Guardian said, a few days ago, 'We have "reason to believe that all the details of "the measure, which is intended to pro-"tect the interests of the Protestants of "Lower Canada, will be prepared by the "Ministry, before the Delegates leave for "England, and these details are nearly all "the work of Mr. Galt.' We are in a "position to affirm that there is no truth "in these rumours. The Canadian Gov-"ernment has no intention whatever of "obtaining the intervention of the English "Parliament in our school legislation, and "Mr. Galt cannot have contributed to the "drafting of a measure in this sense, since "none such has been drafted. The guar-"antees given to Mr. Galt to assure him as "to the future of his co-religionists in "Upper Canada, are of a different charac-"ter, though quite as secure. Lastly, let "us speak out our whole thought—we be-"lieve that the mission of Mr. Galt to Eng-"land is rather to aid the scheme of Con-"federation in England than to watch over "the execution of any special promise "made to Protestants; for he knows that "the Catholics have an interest in profiting "by the occasion to give the school ques-"tion a solution simple and satisfactory to "every one."

All this is very mysterious. Something is to be done for two classes of people, which is to give them supreme content; but not a word is vouchsafed to the interested parties as to the character of the wonderful concoction, which, for the first time in the history of the world, is to please every one. In the meantime, either the Minerve is stating an utter untruth, which we do not believe, or the Gazette was employed to announce a falsehood, and that we do believe. It is pleasant also for the laughing philosophers to see the turn which things have taken in Mr. Brown's last happy attempt to put down "Lower Canadian domination." Mr. Cartier has a Siamese twin brother in the Premiership—Mr. John A. Macdonald, and a body of Upper Canadian Ministers, including two Liberals, pledged by everything sacred in the engagements between man and man, against the extension of the Separate School system in Upper Canada. But Mr. Cartier's special organ informs us that he—he alone—and without considering any of these Upper Canadian gentlemen, is going to settle this Upper Canadian question in the way which he graciously supposes must be acceptable.

THE FRUITS OF CONFEDERATION.—According to the Minerve we are already beginning to reap the fruits of Confederation. To add to the material blessings which that measure would bring in its train, as was clearly foreseen by its promoters from the first, there are other blessings not contemplated. Even before it has actually been carried through the Imperial Parliament and sanctioned by the Crown, it has created a feeling of benevolence, a true brotherly love, and a warm sympathy in the Lower Provinces for the sufferers by the Quebec fire, and by a reflex influence its effects have reached Britain, stirring up similar feelings there. It is evident from the remarks of the Minerve that these feelings did not exist before, or if they did, that they lay dormant until awakened by the warm beams of the sun of Confederation, just peeping over the Eastern hills. Of course every one knows that the feelings of sympathy for distress, and a desire to relieve suffering, are confined within the limits of each nation or Confederation, and do not extend beyond. It is true that at the time of the great fire in Montreal as sistance was sent from various parts of the United States, and a good deal of money was collected throughout Canada and forwarded to Portland some months ago, a kindness reciprocated at the present time by that city as well as by New York and other communities not coming within the limits of the proposed Confederation. All such facts, however, a true philosopher can afford to disregard when he sets himself to prove a preconceived theory to his own satisfaction. La Minerve, in speaking of the contributions sent from the Lower Provinces, says:—

"We enjoy the anticipated fruits of Confederation, under which our efforts, and the result of our labours, as well as our experience, will be held in common. The Government of New Brunswick has voted the sum of $6,000, and that of Nova Scotia the sum of $4,000, for the Quebec sufferers. To those who say that Britain is ready to abandon us, we may point to the fact that, in two or three days, $18,000 were subscribed in London for the same object. These are eloquent facts, proving how public opinion advances. This generosity is all of a local catstrophe may teach us to rely firmly upon the assistance of Britain if ever danger seriously threatens."

The Minerve writes philosophically, and perhaps may be right. But if these are the deductions to be drawn from the generous assistance extended to the Quebec sufferers by their fellow-subjects in the Colonies or the Mother Country, what conclusion are we to draw from the action of the Americans in sending relief to the unfortunate Lancashire cotton spinners?—Surely, to follow out the reasoning of the Minerve, and to use its very words, merely changing the names, "that generosity in aid of a local catastrophe may teach England to rely upon the assistance of the United States, if ever danger seriously threatened." The thing is too glaringly absurd. The assistance would have been as promptly extended had Confederation never been thought of. To believe otherwise is certainly to hold no very exalted opinion of our countrymen.

MAJOR GENERAL LINDSAY.—We learn from our English contemporaries that Major General the Hon. James Lindsay, now commanding the troops in Canada, is expected to return home early in the ensuing year, and will then succeed Major-General Lord Frederick Paulet, C. B., as major-general attached to the Foot Guards at headquarters. We are sure the intelligence will be received here with deep regret, General Lindsay having rendered himself highly popular whilst amongst us, his stay having covered a period of unusual activity and excitement in military circles.

FEAT IN LOCOMOTIVES.—Several experiments having been tried with peat fuel for locomotives, the results of some of which we have given, Mr. Brydges, Manager of the Grand Trunk Railway, took a run down on engine 65 as far as St. Hilaire, to judge for himself as to its efficiency, the subject being one of very considerable interest to the Company. Mr. Brydges saw sufficient during the trip to satisfy himself not only of the perfect combustion of the fuel, but that sufficient steam could be generated by it without the enormous blast required for wood. To put this to the test a very heavy freight train left Point St. Charles yesterday for the West, drawn by the same engine, and accompanied by Mr. Eaton, the locomotive Superintendent. On this occasion the blast was reduced one half, and with this reduction the peat did more work with considerably less consumption than on former trials, and with a superabundance of steam, which was blowing off all the time.

We have received Frank Leslie's Boys' and Girls' Weekly, an illustrated Journal of amusement, acventure and instruction, which is well got up and profusely illustrated.

THE EXTINCTION OF THE CATTLE PLAGUE.—It is only now, after a long season of terrible disaster, ruinous to many of the Agriculturists of Great Britain, that the welcome announcement is made that the cattle plague is almost extinct. In the week ending Oct. 27th the returns showed only six attacks in England, and these were doubtful cases too, which would probably have occurred under any circumstances. The dreadful murrain, which has converted hundreds of thousands of cattle into carrion, may therefore be said to have disappeared. Since the first appearance of the disease more than a quarter of a million of animals were attacked in Great Britain, or 51 in every one thousand of the ordinary stock. More than two hundred thousand animals either died or had to be killed, and only about thirty-three thousand are known to have recovered. Some districts of course suffered much more severly than others, those that were the most fortunate being the high and dry situations. Cheshire alone had fifty-seven thousand cases, fifty-five thousand terminating fatally. That a disease of this kind should prevail for such a length of time, and to such a fatal extent in these modern days of scientific intelligence, was somewhat startling and disconcerting, nor does it appear that there is any better preparation against a recurrence of the plague than there was a century ago. Ireland has suffered very little; France not at all, and the singular inequality of the infliction would seem to suggest some undiscovered causes of its prevalence. The full account which the Commissioners will doubtless publish, of the progress of the disease and the circumstances attending it, may assist in discovering the circumstances which favour its spread.

THE ENGLISH SALMON FISHERIES.—The special commissioners for inquiry into the fixed engines on the salmon rivers of England, have accomplished a part of their labours, the result so far being that all the fixed engines at the mouth of the Usk in Monmouthshire, and in the estuary of the Dee in Cheshire have been absolutely abolished, and a number of fixtures in the Severn have suffered the same fate.

THE NORTH AMERICAN FLEET.—It is stated that Vice Admiral Mundy will succeed Sir James Hope as Commander in the North American Station.

THE DEATH OF MR. SNIDER.—We notice that the death of Mr. Snider, the inventor of the breech-loading rifle which bears his name, and which is now being placed in the hands of all the British troops, is announced in the English papers. Our contemporaries on the other side of the Atlantic are very bitter in their remarks upon the treatment Mr. Snider received at the hands of the Government, alleging, and apparently on good ground, that the illiberality and want of consideration of the War-office greatly accelerated his death. His case was taken up by several of the leading journals, but too late for the unfortunate inventor to benefit by the awakening of public feeling; he was then on his death bed worn out by the cruelties he had suffered, literally dying of starvation.

BREECH-LOADERS.—The Secretary of State for War has invited proposals for breech-loading rifles, to replace the present service rifles. The various conditions of the new arm are minutely specified. Rewards of £1000, £600, £500 and £400 are offered for the best cartridge. If the rifle to which the first prize is awarded is adopted into the service, it will bear the inventor's name. There will be a trial of the arms accepted for competition, and £300 will be paid to each accepted competitor.

ADDRESS TO CAPTAIN SCOTT OF THE MONTREAL OCEAN SCREW SHIP ST. ANDREW.—This fine steamship, as we have already intimated, says the Greenock Advertiser of the 18th October, arrived at the Tail of the Bank on the 11th inst., after a much more than ordinarily perilous passage. On the 6th October she was in a terrible hurrican from 3 a. m. till 3 p.m., during which time destruction seemed every minute impending. On their arrival in the Clyde, the passengers presented Captain Scott with the following address:—

To Captain Scott:—Dear Sir,—The under signed, on behalf of the passengers by the Montreal Ocean screw ship St. Andrew, on her passage from Quebec to Glasgow, which was terminated this day, cannot leave the ship without expressing to you, in an especial manner, their high appreciation of the kind attention which you have given them throughout the entire passage. They also desire to recall their appreciation of your calm and seamanlike conduct, as well as that of every one of your officers and crew, during the trying circumstances of Saturday forenoon, the 6th inst., during a storm in severity seldom every seen on the Atlantic—and when, by the shifting of the cargo, the vessel laboured in the trough of the sea, all but on her beam ends, every moment being threatened with destruction, your calmness was so conspicuous that confidence in a measure never deserted us, and, under Divine Providence, you were enabled to bring your ship through an ordeal more trying, we believe, than she has yet experienced during her five years she has been upon the waters. Through you we would also wish to thank Mr. Cameron, chief steward, for the very able manner in which he has attended to our wants, and desire to bring to your notice the admirable conduct of the ship's surgeon, Dr. George Buchanan, who, during the height of the storm, attended to the various accidents that occurred on that ever memorable morning. Again accept our thanks, and believe us very truly yours,

FRANCIS W. CAMPBELL, M.D., Montreal.

CITY ITEMS.

ACCIDENTS AT THE HARBOUR.—On Wednesday while Sergeant Williams of the 23rd R. W. F. was in charge of a working party of his regiment on board of the ship Woodville, he fell into the hold and received some rather serious injuries about the head. He was removed to the Military Hospital. In the evening a seaman belonging to the gun-boat Niger, now at the Victoria pier, fell into the water, but was rescued from drowning by Constables Burns and Flanigan of the Water Police.

MR. KENNEDY'S CONCERT.—Mr. Kennedy's re-appearance in Montreal was welcomed last evening by a large audience in Nordheimer's Hall. Every one must have been more than satisfied with the performance. We have rarely indeed heard any one in this city throw so much spirit and feeling in his songs, and those of Scotland permit of this being done to so great an extent that when it is well done the effect can scarcely be surpassed. Mr. Kennedy carried his audience with him throughout the wi ole of his performance, but the least interesting part being the selections from Allan Ramsay's Pastoral of the Gentle Shepherd. "My Boy Tammie," and "Scotts Wha Ha'e," the latter given by special request, came up to the expectations of all, and drew forth repeated applause, though the satisfaction of the audience was no less manifest during the rendering of Prince Charlie. Mr. Kennedy cannot fail to draw crowded houses while he acquits himself so well as he did last evening. Miss Kennedy's performances on the Pianoforte was as usual highly successful. For this evening a still more attractive performance, if possible, has been provided, including "A Nicht Wi' Burns," "Tam O'Shanter," "John Anderson, my Jo," "Auld Lang Syne," besides a number of selections from Moore's Irish Melodies, which Mr. Kennedy gives with peculiar effect. Go early.

THEATRE ROYAL.—The Dramatic Association intend giving a performance at the Theatre Royal to-morrow (Saturday) evening, for the benefit of the sufferers by the late fire at Quebec. It is needless to recommend our readers to be present on that occasion. No exertion, we understand, has been spared to render the entertainment worthy of support. The pieces are to be produced under the able direction of Mr. G. Franklin, for many years of the Theatre Royal, London, England.

RECORDER'S COURT.—A number of vagrants were sent to gaol for a month, in default of paying the fines inflicted. Guillaume Guerin, for running over John Shea of the 100th Regiment, had the hearing of his case postponed till to-day, to enable the extent of the injuries to be ascertained. Two women were committed for two months each, being homeless vagrants. There were 23 cases in all.

POLICE COURT.—Michel St. Onge, for running over and seriously injuring Drummer Stagg, was remanded.

BANK OF UPPER CANADA.

Mr. Cassels, Cashier of the Bank of Upper Canada, Mr. Thos. C. Street, M. P. P., and Mr. Thos. Galt, Barrister, reached Halifax yesterday, on board the Java, on their return from England. These gentlemen, it is well known, crossed the Atlantic for the purpose of arranging, if possible, the large debt due by the Bank of Upper Canada to Messrs. Glyn, Mills, Currie & Co., the London agents of the Bank. It has recently transpired, that in security for the sum due them, the firm in question hold not only an assignment of all the Grand Trunk Postal Bonds owned by the Bank, and an assignment of the large mortgage given by the Grand Trunk Railroad Company to the Bank over certain valuable properties of the Company, but that they also hold a mortgage over a very large proportion—and these the most valuable portions—of the Real Estate owned by the Bank. The value of the property thus locked up is believed to be much beyond the amount due to Messrs. Glyn & Co., by the Bank, large as that is, and it became evident that if Messrs. Glyn & Co. were to go on realizing their securities without regard to the interests of the general creditors, the loss might be very heavy, and the delay in winding up the affairs of the Bank much protracted. To obtain some arrangement with Messrs. Glyn & Co., that would prevent these unfortunate results; is understood to have been the object of the mission to England, but what success has attended it, has not yet transpired, and will not probably be known until the arrival of Mr. Cassels in Toronto.

Meantime, the sixty days of grace allowed to the Bank by statute for the redemption of its notes in specie, have been wearing away. The Bank closed its doors on Tuesday, the 18th September, and, therefore, on Monday week the days of grace expire, when the creditors of the Bank will be at liberty to enforce their claims by legal process. On Tuesday first, a meeting of the shareholders is to be held, to consider the course most advisable to be adopted for the winding up of the institution. Various suggestions will no doubt be made as to the best mode of liquidation—but we assume that the plan adopted will be an assignment of the whole assets of the Bank to liquidators, for the general benefit of all the creditors. In no other way can the interests of all the parties be effectively and impartially secured.

The probability is, therefore, that the whole affairs of the Bank will be in the hands of assignees within eight days—and it will be well for parties owing debts to the Bank, and for note-holders and depositors to consider the extent to which they will be affected by that fact. Until the assignment is made, parties indebted to the Bank can purchase the notes and deposit-receipts of the Bank at the market rate and apply them in settlement of their debts to the Bank at par. Since the Bank stopped specie payments, $280,000 of the circulation and deposit-receipts of the Bank has been bought up and applied in this way—and undoubtedly the value of the notes in the market has been kept up by this demand. But when the assignment has been formally made, it is more than doubtful whether this can be done—whether the liquidators will be at liberty to take at par, bills of the Bank, (purchased at a discount after the assignment), in payment of promissory notes and mortgages held by the Bank. Eminent counsel have given the opinion that they will not be at liberty to do so. It is not our province to settle such points; but we state the facts for the benefit of those indebted by mortgage or note to the Bank, and of those holding bills or deposit-receipts of the Bank, who cannot conveniently wait for their money until the debts due to the Bank have been realized, and the proceeds distributed among the creditors. If the legal opinion we have quoted be sound, it is pretty obvious that 10s per Canada Bank notes will sell at a higher rate in the market before the assignment than after it has been made.

THE CHOLERA.—We understand that several cases of cholera occurred in Stratford, C. W., last week, two of them proving fatal—and that there was also one fatal case at Brantford. The latter, a man named Davis, took the disease in Stratford, and returning to Brantford died there.

Mr. Shipway has requested us to call attention to the sales of Fish and Oil, &c., on the wharf this morning, first for account of James Lord & Co., at nine o'clock, and immediately after for Messrs. Jos. Tiffin & Sons.—See advertisement.

Mr. Devany holds a sale of new and second-hand furniture this morning, at his stores, Great St. James Street, at 10 o'clock, embracing the effects of an officer leaving for England.

The sale of the splendid collection of literary books, advertised by Mr. Shaw, will commence at his stores, to-day, at 2 o'clock, and be continued in the evening at 7.

WOOLLY HORSES.

Woolly horses are not so rare as many suppose, nor such great curiosities either, there are many to be found in various parts of the country, but we doubt if they will ever prove as valuable to their owners as the one exhibited by Barnum; we imagine their owners would consider them more valuable without the wool, for this rough and woolly state of the hair indicates that the horse is not in a healthy condition—probably hide-bound, or suffering from disease which occasions this unnatural appearance; in such cases use "Harley's Indian Heave Remedy and Condition Medicine," it will purify the blood, correct the appetite, remove all obstructions from the lungs and liver, and give to the coat a sleek and shining appearance.

Remember the name, and see that the signature of HARLEY & CO. is on each package.

TRADE AND COMMERCE.

FATHER POINT, Nov. 8, 1866.

Evening. Weather clear, beautiful and calm.

HERALD OFFICE,
MONTREAL, Thursday, Nov. 8.

The demand for money this week has been very limited, and in consequence the market is comparatively easy. Sterling Exchange has ruled rather steadier at 9¼ to 9¾ prem. for Bank 60 day Drafts (cash), but the business done has not amounted to much. To-day, in sympathy with New York, the feeling is easier, and purchases could be made at slightly lower figures than those current for some days.

NEW LINE OF PROPELLERS.—The increased trade which has existed between Canada and the Lower Ports has caused some of our Western merchants and shippers to agitate the forming of a Company to run a line of Propellers to the Lower Ports. With the view of giving effect to this, we understand that already almost a sufficient amount of stock has been subscribed in Hamilton and its vicinity, to place four vessels on the route next Spring. This is certainly very enterprising on the part of our Western men, and should the trade continue to be as good as now, and of this there can be little doubt, the new line will have pretty nearly a sufficient guarantee that enough support will be extended to the new Company to ensure success. One thing is very certain that so long as the Lower Port men find a cheaper market here than in the United States, the trade will be thrown in our way, and the chances are at present very much in favour of that result.

The transactions in Groceries have altogether been confined to the auction sales, at which, considering that only a short time ago a very large quantity of goods was thrown on the market, the attendance of Western and city buyers was fully up to our expectation. The prices paid for nearly every class of goods are just about the same as that obtained at the previous sales. To-morrow, Friday, Messrs. I. Buchanan & Co. will offer a full assortment of Teas, Groceries, Liquors, &c. There will also be sold for account of Messrs. J. Tiffin & Sons, and Mr. Jas. Lord, Fish, Herrings, Oil and Salt. On Saturday, Messrs. Reuter, Lionais & Co. will sell a selection of Wines, Brandies, and General Groceries, at their stores, in Hospital Street.

The Produce market early in the week was without animation, and a general tendency to decline for almost all descriptions of Grain, but yesterday and to-day a much firmer feeling was manifested in the market for Flour, and prices have steadily advanced. To-day holders were unwilling to operate at yesterday's prices, and only a very limited number of transactions are noted for local consumption. The advance asked has checked sales to a considerable extent. Lower Port orders are still coming forward, and are most likely to continue until the close of navigation.

On 'Change this forenoon the sales were of ordinary Supers, in 100 and 200 barrel lots, at $7.33½ to $7.40, and one lot of strong Flour at $7.50. The market this evening closes firm.

IRON AND HARDWARE.

We continue to advise a steady, healthy demand, with an active business at regular prices. Our market is free from speculation, stocks are well assorted and business generally appears to be satisfactory. We have no change in prices of any importance to advise:—
